SpartanNash Launches Comprehensive Grand Opening Support Service for Independent Grocers

GRAND RAPIDS, MI. - SpartanNash, a leading food solutions company, today announced the launch of its new Grand Opening Support Service, designed to empower independent grocers with the tools and resources needed for successful store launches. This innovative service highlights SpartanNash's commitment to support and promote the growth and success of independent retailers in an increasingly competitive market.

The Grand Opening Support Service offers a tiered approach, allowing grocers to select the level of assistance that best fits their needs and budget. The service includes:

- Customized marketing materials and campaigns
- Product support with special discounts
- Expert consultation and on-site support
- Digital marketing assistance
- Event planning and execution
- New orientation Service in lieu of a Grand Opening
- Post-opening performance analysis and ongoing support

"At SpartanNash, we believe in delivering the ingredients for a better life, and that includes setting our independent grocer customer up for success from day one. With this new grand opening or orientation service, new customers can not go wrong and will be ready to thrive."

The service is available in three tiers - Basic, Enhanced, and Premium - each offering a suite of support options. From eye-catching marketing materials to on-site event management, SpartanNash's team of experts works closely with each grocer to create a seamless Grand Opening experience.

SpartanNash (Nasdaq: SPTN) is a food solutions company that delivers the ingredients for a better life.
